

OPENING GUNS

Great Ovation Given Taylor and Other Candidates at London.

GREETED KENTUCKY'S NEXT GOVERNOR.

General Taylor's Speech Devoted to State Issues Entirely.

JUDGE PRATT MADE OPENING SPEECH.

London, Ky., Aug. 22.—If great numbers in attendance and a perfectly sympathetic and orderly audience count for anything, the Republican State campaign was opened under most auspicious circumstances here today.

By 10 o'clock this morning there was such an assemblage at the grounds that it was incumbent upon the management to provide some reward for the enthusiasm displayed. This was before any of the excursions had arrived and the audience was composed entirely of persons who had come on horseback, in springless wagons or who had walked the dusty roads to lend their presence. The long fence back of the fair ground's grandstand was one line of over 1,000 hitched horses and mules. The grove behind the stand sheltered hundreds of vehicles from the already hot sun. Those eager to hear crowded the grandstand, facing which the speakers' platform had been built.

The auditorium proper facing the grandstand, was at 10:15 o'clock filled to suffocation with people. This part of the stand seats 3,500 people. An annex attached to it holds 1,000 more and was partially filled, although out of reach of the distant voice of the orators. For two hours an attentive, cheerful crowd, only ten per cent of it women and children, sat in the stands and heard the speakers.

PRATT OPENS THE CAMPAIGN.

Mr. Parker called the meeting to order, introducing Judge Boring who was the chairman. In a graceful style the chairman introduced Judge Pratt, who was listened to with great interest. In speaking, Judge Pratt said, among other things: "A victory means more than a senseless cry that is raised through the State about trusts, monopolies and the railroads. It means no more policemen's conventions, where they worked under the mysterious influence of Redwine. The disease of the body politic," he said, "must be cured with Taylor drugs and Republican soothing syrup."

Judge Pratt also said that victory meant no more of the present election law, which he dissected, and held up for ridicule and scorn with effect. He made a good point when he stated the alleged excuse for its existence was the situation in the eleventh district where Col. D. G. Colson had been alleged to have acted as an election officer in 1896. He said victory would mean no McChord railroad bill, which he exposed as a pernicious measure. Victory would mean no Chinn school book bill, which is calculated to defeat the education of the little children of the State. His picture drawn in reference to the effects of this bill, if applied, provoked hearty hand-clapping.

Further in his speech, Judge Pratt's mention of Gov. Bradley's name was applauded. He pointed to the calamity that would arise if the State government was allowed to pass from the hands of an efficient administration. Then he referred feelingly to the difficulties surmounted by Gen. Taylor in the course of his life and indulged in a brief and eloquent eulogy of the nominee for governor, which was greeted with a demonstration that shook the thickly packed wooden stand.

Reviewing the platform and the things for which it stands, the speaker won much favor in the defense of the national administration's foreign policy. All in all, the western Kentucky man made a fine impression.

Caleb Powers, nominee for Secretary of State made a brief talk after Judge Pratt had finished, after which the meeting adjourned for dinner and all were fed.

When the meeting was called to order again at 1 o'clock the crowd in the stand was even more dense, while hundreds stood round without a good view of the speakers. Other hundreds camped out under the pine trees, loath to leave the grounds before the festivity was concluded. On the grounds at this time were from 7,000 to 10,000 people, according to various estimates.

Judge Boring, in opening the exercises, promised Gen. Taylor 2,000 majority in the eleventh congressional district, "burying Goebel and Goebelism so deep that never another ambitious demagogue shall rise to disfranchise his fellow man."

The formal duty of introducing to the assemblage the next governor of Kentucky devolved upon Judge T. Z. Morrow, brother-in-law of Gov. Bradley, and an honored veteran in the ranks of the republican party in Kentucky. As he uttered the words forecasting the victory of the gallant Butler county man, the stand rocked and vibrated with life, as applause thundered forth. As usual, Judge Morrow's speech was vigorous. "We will have a fair election of 200,000 Kentuckians will know the reason why," he said. "We will have it, for we have the flower of the manhood, and honor of the commonwealth behind us. Time was when the boys in blue and the boys in gray were divided, but in this momentous struggle the boys in blue are arrayed with such noble ex-confederates as Morgan and Jim Clay, and with the blue and the gray together the devil himself can't beat him. It is a grand battle you are to fight in this question of the liberty of white and black." Gen. Taylor then spoke at length and delivered the speech which fully outlines the fight in Kentucky.

Attorney General Taylor was the orator of the day, and he made his first speech as a candidate for the chief executive's chair. He did not touch upon national issues, but devoted his entire speech to the questions which are local to Kentucky, and which are stirring this Commonwealth from center to circumference. Gen. Taylor's speech suited his crowd. The people were in no mood to hear tariff or money talk. They wanted to know how the Goebel machine is to be broken up in this State and the right of the people to suffrage preserved. Gen. Taylor told them that this could be done by the people going to the polls, voting the Republican ticket, and seeing to it that their votes were fairly counted.

He added that if he thought this monstrous blot upon Kentucky, the Goebel machine, could be wiped out by his supporting one of the other tickets pledged to repeal the Goebel election law, he would withdraw from the race and support that ticket. This sentiment evoked prolonged applause.

The Goebel Dagger.

From the Louisville Dispatch. Much more appropriate to the Goebel campaign than the Goebel button would be the Goebel dagger.

It has been told in Covington letters to the Dispatch how Goebel has always gone armed with revolver or outlawed knife in his home town.

At Mayfield on Saturday, standing before a crowd of listeners, Goebel, who insists that he is the Democratic nominee for Governor of Kentucky, threw back his coat and exposed protruding from an inside pocket the handle and hilt of a murderous dagger—long enough to touch the bottom of the coat pocket and to show above it. The law-abiding and peace-loving citizens of this state fail to know of any necessity for a reputable citizen's practice of going armed to kill. They do not see why a lawyer in his home town must be prepared for bloodshed—why a lawmaker should walk the streets equipped to do murder—why a candidate should be fortified to do personal violence.

Commenting on the Goebel-Sandford tragedy on April 10, 1895, the Courier-Journal three days later said: "It would be profitable to moralize over the Covington tragedy. Such barbarism may be expected as long as lawmakers and professedly law-abiding citizens violate the law by walking the streets prepared to do murder, as long as 'politics' is a mania which incites its victims to personal crime, personal vituperation and personal violence."

Goebel, the lawmaker, violates the law by "walking the streets prepared to do murder," and with him politics seems to be a mania which incites him to personal crime, personal vituperation and personal violence. And yet the Courier-Journal has vowed to elect Goebel governor of Kentucky.

Hope Deported.

J. J. Glenn in the Graphic. With bowed head, with hand on our heart and sorrow in our soul, we recognize the fact that the Democratic party in the State is now rent in twain and so far as we are able to see, there is no salvation for the party, either now or at any time in the near future.

Some 25,000 cases of leaf tobacco, valued at about $1,000,000, changed hands in Milwaukee this week. The greater proportion of the tobacco was grown in Wisconsin. The American Tobacco Company was the purchaser, and the price paid was somewhere between 10 and 12 cents a pound. Each case contains about 350 pounds. The deal is said to be the largest on record in the tobacco trade.

The lecture and organ recital at the Catholic Church Tuesday night was well attended notwithstanding the warm weather. Both the literary and musical parts of the program were high class.

VICTOR, COLORADO, BURNED.

The Town Swept by a Great Conflagration, Entailing a Loss of Two Million Dollars.

Cripple Creek, Col., Aug. 22.—Fire yesterday utterly destroyed the business portion of the city of Victor, causing a loss estimated at $2,000,000. Beginning shortly after noon, the fire raged until evening, consuming everything in its way. It had its origin, it is thought, in the Merchants' cafe, adjoining the Bank of Victor, on the corner of Third street and Victor avenue. A strong wind from the south fanned the flames and in a few minutes all the surrounding houses were afire.

THE NESBIT ELECTION LAW.

The Second Step in the Proceedings That Will Test the Constitutionality of the Law.

St. Louis, Aug. 23.—The attempt to prevent the operation of the Nesbit election law received a setback when Judges Marshall and Burgess, of the supreme court, in chambers, at Jefferson City, awarded Atty-Gen. Crow a writ of prohibition against Circuit Judge Withrow and the city of St. Louis to restrain them from interfering with the new board of election commissioners.

It is also ordered that the circuit judges of the city of St. Louis shall appear before the supreme court on the first day of the October term to show cause why they should interfere with the operation of the law.

AS A FUGITIVE MURDERER. James Green Arrested at Durant, Okla., Charged With Being Otto Mathias, Judge Wall's Slayer.

Durant, Okla., Aug. 23.—On a warrant sworn out by Detective McClure of St. Louis, United States Deputy Marshal H. K. Wall, Monday evening, arrested James Green, of a second-hand store in this city, on a charge of murdering Judge Hampton W. Duquoin, Ill., on August 16, 1898.

Detective McClure says Green's proper name is Otto Mathias, and that a $2,500 reward is offered for him. Green declares the affair to be a case of mistaken identity, and that he was in Honey Grove, Tex., at the time the murder was committed. He will have a hearing before Commissioner Ralls.

PUGET SOUND SALMON PACK. If Present Conditions Continue This Season's Salmon Pack Will Be Phenomenal.

Tacoma, Wash., Aug. 23.—The run of sockeye salmon on lower Puget sound is so phenomenal as to make it most certain that the Puget sound salmon pack will be large enough to compensate for the shortage in the packs in Fraser and Columbia rivers. If the run of humpbacks and silversides, which should commence soon, equals the sockeye run now closing, all record of salmon packing will be surpassed.

TWO BRAKEMEN MURDERED. A Strong Argument in Favor of the Summary Clearing of All Trains of Tramps.

Marshalltown, Ia., Aug. 23.—Three tramps stealing a ride on a Chicago & Great Western freight train left here shortly after midnight, shot and killed brakemen J. E. Wilson and George May, and threw their bodies under the wheels. The murderers escaped, but an armed posse at once started in pursuit.

Yellow Fever at Panama. Colombia, Aug. 23.—Several cases of yellow fever have occurred at Panama, the disease, it is said, having been imported from Guayaquil, Ecuador. An urgent appeal was made to the local authorities yesterday in regard to the necessity for the immediate construction of a lazarette in Panama. It was pointed out that otherwise the recently-increased traffic of the isthmus with Pacific ports must suffer a decrease.

The Whole Regiment Volunteerized. Kingston, Aug. 23.—The Jamaican government has offered a contingent of 200 native militia for the support of the white troops ordered hence for service in the Transvaal. Wonderful enthusiasm has been manifested in regard to the enlistments for service in South Africa. When volunteers were called for, an entire regiment at once responded.

The Vicksburg Fire. Vicksburg, Miss., Aug. 20.—The fire which broke out Friday night in the big warehouse of the Lee Richardson company was extinguished. For a time it looked as though the whole block would be destroyed. The loss will approximate $150,000; well covered by insurance.

THE SHAMROCK IS HERE.

Arrival of Sir Thomas Lipton's Cup Challenger, the Shamrock, at New York.

A QUICKER TRIP THAN ANTICIPATED.

The Shamrock was Towed for Two Thousand Miles by her Consort, the Steam Yacht Erin—The Yacht's Crew Pleased With the Vessel's Behavior.

New York, Aug. 19.—Sir Thomas Lipton's yacht, Shamrock, challenger for the American cup, reached this port, accompanied by her tender, the steam yacht Erin. The Shamrock sailed from Fairlie on the Clyde, Aug. 3, and made the trans-Atlantic voyage in much quicker time than was anticipated.

The Erin towed the Shamrock about 2,000 miles and the latter sailed something more than 1,200 miles. Her best day's run, under canvas, was 268 knots. Most of the towing was done after passing the Azores, August 6.

At quarantine the yachts were promptly cleared. The Shamrock was yawl rigged and painted light green. She carried the blue ensign of the British navy with Sir Thomas Lipton's private signal, green shamrock on a yellow ground, with a green border. The Shamrock shows a light silvery metal where the paint has been scraped from the sides. The crew of the yacht are well satisfied with the behavior of the challenger.

The crew are a sturdy lot of Scotch and English men. They wear blue jerseys, bearing on the breast the words "Shamrock, R. U. Y. C." The same words appear on the yacht's stern.

The steam yacht Erin flies, besides Sir Thomas Lipton's private signal, the colors of the Royal Ulster Yacht club.

After the yachts had anchored in the upper bay, Capt. Archie Hogarth, of the Shamrock, said:

"The Shamrock behaved beautifully. I am more than satisfied with her. In fact I am delighted, because my most ardent anticipations have been more than realized. But I will say this, that as gleeful as I am with the behavior of the boat, I was more surprised with the generous reception which she got from the time that we were abreast of Sandy Hook."

BY A WRIT OF PROHIBITION. The Supreme Court of Missouri Nullifies the Injunction Against the St. Louis Police Force.

Jefferson City, Mo., Aug. 19.—Proceedings were begun Thursday night, before Judges Bruce, Burgess and Marshall, of the supreme court, in chambers, to transfer the test of the St. Louis police law from the circuit court of St. Louis to the supreme court. Atty-Gen. Crow, late Thursday evening, secured the signature of the three judges named. The proceedings are in the nature of a writ of prohibition, which releases the members of the police board from the writ of injunction issued by Judge Withrow and permits them to proceed with the reorganization of the force, as contemplated in the law taking effect August 20.

The writs necessary to carry out the proceedings brought by Atty-Gen. Crow were issued by John H. Green, clerk of the supreme court, and placed in the hands of R. E. Seale, marshal of the supreme court, who left at once for St. Louis to serve them.

ARREST OF GENERAL JIMINEZ. The Would-Be Dictator of San Domingo Submitted Only to Show of Force.

Havana, Aug. 19.—In view of the fact that Col. Bacallao, chief of the secret police, persisted in his declaration that Gen. Jiminez, the aspirant to the presidency of Santo Domingo, was a Havana, cited with the left or returned, the military authorities telegraphed to Cienfuegos instructing Capt. Stamper, collector of customs there, to ascertain whether Jiminez was on the Mendez steamer, and take him under arrest if that should be the case.

Just as the steamer was about leaving Cienfuegos, Capt. Stamper located Jiminez and arrested him. Jiminez denounced the arrest as an outrage. He said jury had broken law and would not yield except to force. Capt. Stamper replied that he was ready to use force if necessary and Jiminez then yielded, remarking that he did so only because he could not help himself.

Held For the Grand Jury. St. Louis, Aug. 19.—George C. Starck, president of the Stone Hill Wine Co. and O. G. Starck, his eldest son, were before United States Commissioner Gray, charged with violating the internal revenue laws. They waived examination, and were held for the federal grand jury in the sum of $5,000 each. Bond was immediately furnished by the defendants, and they were released.

Spanish War Veterans Enlist. Washington, Aug. 19.—Adj.-Gen. Corbin has been highly pleased to discover that the soldiers offering themselves for the volunteer regiments have in large numbers, had experience in Cuba and elsewhere. The per cent. runs from about 20 to 60, according to locality, making an average of about 40 per cent. that may be called veterans.

Just remember that gray hair never becomes darker without help, while dark hair rapidly becomes gray when once the change begins.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

will bring back to your hair the color of youth. It never fails. It is just as sure as that heat melts snow, or that water quenches fire.

It cleanses the scalp also and prevents the formation of dandruff. It feeds and nourishes the bulbs of the hair making them produce a luxuriant growth. It stops the hair from falling out and gives a fine soft finish to the hair as well.

We have a book on the Hair and Scalp, which you may obtain free upon request. It tells you all the benefits you expect from Ayer's Hair Vigor, written by Dr. J. C. Ayer, Lowell, Mass.

AGRICULTURAL.

According to an estimate of an expert of the Statistical Bureau of the Department of Agriculture, the loss in money as the result of the recent Kansas valley flood amounts to $6,414,000. Nearly 90 per cent of the damage occurred to growing crops. The precise effect of the flood upon this year's crops is difficult to estimate. While the crops over a very large area were practically destroyed, the effect of the rains on the upland crops will be highly beneficial and should, he thinks, result in a large increase in yield throughout the entire central part of the state, and so much of the western part as is under cultivation.

The Prosperous West. "Great news is coming from the corn-growing states these days," says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. "Not only has the wheat crop in Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska and the other states of this neighborhood been above the average, but the corn yield is going far ahead of all previous figures. The Kansas corn crop will, according to the estimates, be a long way in excess of 300,000,000 bushels. Nebraska's corn yield is placed at from 275,000,000 to 290,000,000 bushels, and the latest reports seem to indicate that it may go up to the 300,000,000 mark. Iowa and Missouri are in equally good fortune. The news from Colorado, Minnesota and the Dakotas is likewise encouraging in the highest degree. This immense increase in the crops is causing some curious things. The demands on the labor bureau in the farming regions in the west were never so great in the past as they are now, and the agencies are powerless to meet them. Wages higher than any given in many years are offered, but the supply of workers is far below the demand. Women are working in the harvest fields in Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas and all the neighboring states. This is a sight familiar enough to the old world, where women are in the habit of working out of doors with men. It is altogether new in the United States, however. Women are drawn upon to help in the harvesting because the supply of men is inadequate. The crops are the largest ever known, and the labor of the women is necessary to prevent loss through delay in harvesting. The west, like the rest of the country, is on the high tide of prosperity. Everybody is cheerful. The outlook is brighter than it has been in the agricultural regions in many years."

Estimates on the yield of corn in the leading surplus states follow. These estimates are based on the government report on crops:

it cleanses the scalp and prevents the formation of dandruff. It feeds and nourishes the bulbs of the hair, making them produce a luxuriant growth. It stops the hair from falling out and gives a fine soft finish to the hair as well.

We have a book on the Hair and Scalp which you may obtain free upon request. If you do not obtain all the benefits you expected from the use of the Vigor, write the Doctor about it.

Rev. Jno. M. Crowe stopped in Earlington a part of Saturday enroute from Sturgis to Russellville where he will preach at Parson's Grove Camp Meeting. Karl Taylor was with him and remained over Sunday.

Prof. E. B. Bourland, of the Earlington Public School, is in Hopkins county again after some weeks of work in institutes in other counties. The time draws near when the shooting of young ideas must begin.

Will Bramham has bought of Mrs. Ida Walker the vacant lot on east Main street, between the residences of Mrs. Walker and John Rule. for a consideration of $600. He has an excellent building lot in a choice locality and expects to erect a nice cottage in the spring.

Miss Mary White, of Landsdown, Pa., sister of Howard White, mining engineer for the St. Bernard Coal Co., is visiting him this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jno. B. Atkinson. The latter are not at home yet but, with Mrs. Paul M. Moore and sons, are expected home from their trip to the east in a few days.

The new postoffice building is nearing completion, but there are several things to do before it will be ready for occupancy. Postmaster Robinson's health is still poor and he is spending some time at St. Charles where he can keep comfortable and yet be near enough to Dawson Springs to get the benefit of the water without coming in contact with the crowd at that popular watering place.

On last Monday evening quite a jolly party of young folks, with Mr. W. O. Toy and wife as chaperones enjoyed a hayride, which lasted from 8 to 11 o'clock. Delightful music was furnished by Misses Sallie McGrath and Lizzie Sullivan on guitar and mandolin, which lent enchantment to the evening's pleasure. In their rounds they took in the city of Madisonville, and returning gave a portion of Earlington a serenade.

School Time Coming.

The time is near when our schools begin their nine months of free instruction by a corps of competent teachers for the benefit of all the children of Earlington. Times have been and are good and parents should arrange to put all children into the schools. We do not all appreciate the opportunity offered in the way of free schools but the Earlington people do appreciate the fact that they have good school advantages for a longer period each year than any other town in the county and the attendance is usually very fair. We should all make an effort to fill the school this year and give our children these advantages while they are of proper age and the opportunities last.

The corps of teachers is the same this year as last, except that Miss Laura Ligon is not here and Miss Lelia Deane takes her place. The teachers are, Mrs. Ida E. Walker, principal, Mr. E. B. Bourland, Misses Minnie Bourland and Lelia Deane.

We hope to have a communication in our next issue from "Parvus Magister," whose Bix pen has been idle since school closed.

Wonderful Discovery.

LUNSFORD, ALA., April 15, 1898. New Spencer Medicine Co.

Dear Sir:—I have been troubled with liver and stomach complaint. I had no appetite and my general health was very bad. I took medicine from four different doctors and they failed to do me any good. I got no relief until I began to use your valuable Nubian Tea. I used about two dollars worth of it, and it did me more good than all the medicine I ever took. I have gained thirty-five pounds in weight and my health is very good. I can sleep soundly and my appetite is excellent. I can recommend Planter's Nubian Tea to the world as being a God-send to any community. Any one who doubts this statement can write.

They Caught 'Em.

Bryan Hopper, the beat-'em-all angler and Paul M. Moore arose with the song of an intermittent alarm clock Tuesday morning at four o'clock and went to search for the fish that swim but do not always bite in Loch Mary. "The patient fisher took his silent stand"—in the stern and Moore played screw propeller. A two-pound bass—not "fishermen's weight"—and the largest perch that has been hooked in those waters were among the catch. An hour's sport provided breakfast for several and almost made a convert to the virtue of early rising.

A Mother Tells How She Saved Her Little Daughter's Life.

I am the mother of eight children and have had a great deal of experience with medicines. Last summer my little daughter had the dysentery in its worst form. We thought she would die. I tried everything I could think of, but nothing seemed to do her any good. I saw by an advertisement in our paper that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was highly recommended and sent and got a bottle at once. It proved to be one of the very best medicines we ever had in the house. It saved my little daughter's life. I am anxious for every mother to know what an excellent medicine it is. Had I known it at first it would have saved me a great deal of anxiety and my little daughter much suffering. Yours truly, Mrs. George F. Burdick, Liberty, R. I. For sale by the St. Bernard Drugstore, Earlington; Ben T. Robinson, Mortons Gap; George King, St. Charles.

Died.

Hazel, the little daughter, of Mr. and Mrs. B. I. Lane, died at their home in Earlington Sunday evening, August 20, 1899, about 9 o'clock. This little one, whose loving disposition and bright, sprightly ways endeared her to many, was only two years and seven months old but the snapping of her life cord has brought deep sorrow to more hearts than mother and father and brother and sister. The loss is a severe one to the bereaved parents and the sympathy of THE BEE is extended with that of the many friends of the family.

HECLA MINES SOLD

Purchased by St. Bernard Coal Company.

New Management is in Charge.

The sensation in local mining circles the past week was the acquisition by the St. Bernard Coal Company of the Hecla coal mine. For once it must be admitted by the majority of the people here that they had no hint that negotiations were pending for transfer of the mines. Even the man who is always ready to say, "I told you so," has not been found, so it can be seen that even at this age some things can be accomplished by business men without the public being made aware.

The mine is adjacent to the St. Bernard property on more than one side and its acquisition gives that company access to coal land from which they were before separated as to mining and shipping facilities.

The terms of the purchase include the whole property, even the diary, which is being operated as usual. What change of plan may be made as to the dairy cannot now be said.

Foreman William Day, of No. 9, has been busily systematizing things at and in the mines under the new management. "Civilized Engineer" White, and "Half-Civilized Engineer" Finley have turned about taking many shifts at the problem of adding more coal to the daily product and Farm Superintendent Corey has been cutting and grinding corn for the cattle, hauling timber etc. In fact, the line of battle has been transferred to the Hecla and with the expansion idea in mind it has received the name of "the Philippines."

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address: F. J. Exploration of South America.

One of the most interesting publications of the winter will be a history of Sir Martin Conway's expedition to South America. Mr. Conway is well known as one of the foremost mountain-climbers in the world, and his book will contain descriptions of his ascents of many of the Andes' almost inaccessible peaks. Mr. Conway's work will not be confined to his activities as a mountain-climber; he takes also a keen interest in political and commercial problems.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver, of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated pale continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately a friend advised trying Electric Bitters; and to my joy and surprise the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50c., guaranteed at St. Bernard Drugstore.

Spilling Their Politics.

From the New York Tribune.

What is the matter with the anti expansionists? Are the bottles of their wrath all emptied? They fail to show due indignation over General Otis's attempt to interfere with home politics by sending word that he has captured insurgent dispatches predicting victory for Aguinaldo through the overthrow of McKinley by his Lafayettees in this country. They are strangely submissive under the outrage.

During the civil war, as well as in our late war with Spain, diarrhoea was one of the most troublesome diseases the army had to contend with. In many instances it became chronic and the old soldiers still suffer from it. Mr. David Taylor, of Wind Ridge, Greene county, Pa., is one of these. He uses Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and says he never found anything that would give him such quick relief.

"Be Careful About Your Manners When You Come My Way."

From the Lexington Herald.

It is noticeable fact that none of the rip-roaring, hurly-burly, hallooing "spielers" for the Goebel hallucination are pushing their way enthusiastically toward Lexington. Perhaps they have clandestinely ascertained that the Queen of the Blue Grass is "laying" for them with "kiss of bilin" water.

A Thousand Tongues.

Could not express the rapture of Annie E. Springer, of 1122 Howard St., Philadelphia, Pa., when she found that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption had completely cured her of a hacking cough that for many years had made life a burden. All other remedies and doctors could give her no help, but she says of this Royal Cure—"It soon removed the pain in my chest and I can now sleep soundly, something I could scarcely remember doing before. A Tragic Comedy.

From the Cincinnati Commercial-Tribune.

Standing before an assemblage of Democrats at Wickliffe, Ky., Monday last, ex-United States Senator Joseph C. S. Blackburn declared:

Goebel stands before the Democracy of the State a worthy leader of the cause. Standing before an assemblage of mourners assembled about the bier of John L. Sanford, in Covington, Easter Sunday in 1895, then United States Senator Joseph C. S. Blackburn declared:

John Sanford was to me like a brother. I loved him. I hope God may spare me and I shall make it my life's mission to avenge him by burying his slayer in the depths of merited public execration.

There is even in politics much of pathos, much that is pitiable. And of what weight is the indorsement of William Goebel by Joseph Blackburn across John Sanford's grave?

Good for the Children.

Mrs. Ella Hinson, of Hinton, Ala., writes us August 12th, 1898: "I advise all mothers to give their children Planter's Nubian Tea when they are puny or fretful. I keep this medicine in the house and when the children are ailing I give them a dose and it has the best effect."

DOWN IN THE MINES.

A rumor is afloat that the Co-operative Coal Company at Barney is trying to sell their mine, but the report lacks confirmation.

With an additional mine to draw on for slack, the production of coals will now evidently increase at this place.

Knoxville, Tenn., Aug. 19.—Several hundred miners have left the Middleboro district for Arkansas, owing to the inability of the strikers and operators of the mines to come to an agreement. The operators refuse to concede the demands of the miners. It is reported that other miners will leave in a few days. Several thousand are affected by the strike.

James Dixon, who is engaged in taking leases of coal lands in the southern end of Brooke county, W. Va., has secured 40,000 acres and may develop the coal.

The products of the mineral industries of Kansas for 1898 amounted to more than $7,000,000. The production of coal was valued at $4,000,000 and of salt more than $500,000.

Because of the evident decrease of gas in the Indiana gas belt, prominent citizens of Indianapolis are agitating the bonding of the city to the amount of $1,000,000 to be used in constructing a railway from the city into the coal fields of the State.

Secretary Atkinson says that last Saturday his shipments of coal amounted to about one hundred cars at 600 bushels to the car, and yet he is unable to fill all orders for forty cars of coal.

Secretary Bailey, of the Keokuck Company says scarcity of coal cars is greatly interfering with his coal production at present.

Work on track at Hecla leading to new shaft lately sunk, has been suspended by orders of St. Bernard Company. This new shaft, it is likely will never be used by them as they look upon it as an unnecessary addition.

John Hogan and Ernest Rash, both good and useful men, we understand will retain positions under the St. Bernard Company at Hecla.

The U. M. W. organization should endeavor to call agitator Wood, of their order, down, as he is certainly doing them harm. A few weeks ago he attacked the U. M. W. in an indirect way by warning them to stay away from Hopkins County, where the miners failed to notice them, or their organization. Now he comes out in a circular letter advising a boycott of Hopkins County coal by the consumers, which is simply another way to increase business here by giving the Hopkins county product an extensive advertisement. Past experiments with such unlawful weapons as a boycott, has shown that they are a dangerous weapon to the user. Business men everywhere can trust a company to fill their orders, who will not listen to the dictates of labor leaders, and who are free from the influences of such organizations as the U. M. W. So a boycott by them is a good recommendation to consumers of coal, and you can look for increasing business.

Mining Engineer, Howard White now has his hands full, since the Hecla mine has been added to his work.

An investigation made by the St. Bernard mechanical force last week revealed the fact that the electric power at the Hecla mine is overloaded by using the power for mining purposes.

Under the supervision of Foreman Day, the production of coal at the Hecla mines has shown an increase of about two cars per day since the change of ownership.

LOCOMOTIVE BLASTS.

Operator Bell, who a few months ago gave up telegraphing to engage in the hotel business at Springfield, Tenn., has become well satisfied that the business is not a paying one, and is therefore seeking a job at his old trade from the railroad company and as he is conceded to be a first-class operator, he will probably receive employment.

The report is in circulation that the agent at Nortonville, who took the place of Mr. Tefft, is becoming tired, and has called for more help, or the acceptance of his resignation.

Operator James Cravens has cast his lot with the Illinois Central as night operator at Nortonville.

Don Wise is fast recovering from the injury received last week while switching in the Earlington yard, and he will soon be able for duty again.

The blowing out of a piston head last Tuesday morning caused some delay to Conductor Ryan and crew on local.

The night telegraph office at Cedar Hill has again been re-opened, with Jesse Coffman in charge as operator.

Rumor says that in the near future an operator will again be placed at Mannington.

It is strange indeed that the L. & N. paid the fare to Lexington of the delegates, who attended the late Democratic convention held there, when the delegates from here are informed paid their own way, but you know campaign lies are thick these days.

Night caller Byron Giannini was on the sick list last week for several days, but has so far recovered as to be able to again be on duty.

A good illustration of how Goebel made his thousands was shown in a daily paper one day this week. The scene was a railroad wreck, and near by could be seen Goebel leaving the wreck, where he had been to consult the poor victims and show his great sympathy for them by receiving their claims against the railroad to collect.
